

Jörg Ebbesmeyer

MANAGING PARTNER

Jörg Ebbesmeyer, born in 1970, became a managing partner of consenso Consulting GmbH at the beginning of 2013.

Following his commercial apprenticeship, he specialised on the technological elements of trading processes and technology management.

As early as 1992, he started working for the EDEKA group and significantly contributed to the formation of the LUNAR program (largest SAP implementation program in European retailing) with increasing responsibility. In addition to a variety of technology-oriented project management tasks, Jörg Ebbesmeyer assumed responsibility for the design of the LUNAR architecture and the operative technology management at an early stage. Within the EDEKA/LUNAR line organisation, multi-project management and the corresponding portfolio management were part of his scope of duties including the overall responsibility for the area of service and support.

With his excellent trading and technology expertise he has been complementing consenso's team since 2011.
